THE AMENDMENTS.

On the ticket of the general election that will be held Tuesday, November 2, four amendments will be submitted to the voters. Many votcis are not familiar with these menduierts and for this reason a word of explanation is given.

Amendment No. 1 relates to the National Guards. It was passed in The Senate 21 to 0, and the House rassed it 100 to 20. It merely removes the restriction against menbers of the National Guard and the Reserve Corps holding civil office. They are now barred by the conexitution which declares that no person shall hold more than one office, with certain exceptions therein named. There seems to be no good reason why good men who give a portion of their time to a worthy public service should be barred from holding office in Texas should their abilities warrant and the people want them.

Amendment No. 2 relates school districts. It was passed by the Senate 26 to 0 and the House passed it 107 to 2. It provides for cancellation of authority of the Legislature to create school districts by special acts. This practice has been extremely detrimental to the cause of education all familiar with the subject will concede Effect of the law as at present exists prevents many districts from adequately supporting their schools for the reason that riaxable wealth is taken from them through such special acts.

Amendment No. 3 relates to Prison Commissioners. It passed the Senate 22 to C and passed the House 101 to 7. It provides for a change in the method of prison control and is designed to prevent at least some of the abuses resulting from mismanagement that have been brought to light in recent years The idea is to supplant the present prison system with a business management in which one man will be held responsible for the proper conduct of the system A prison board is provided for members of which will be appointed by the governor, who in turn will chief executive of the system. Inrestigations of recent years have are planning to abandon his county as an oil producer. It is the opinathe-present form of control and ion of many that the real producmanagement is one of the chief ing oil sand has not yet been unthings that is wrong and the covered in Navarro county and the womendment if adopted will pave the activities of the many wildcat tests way toward placing the system on a in the county would verify this beself sustaining basis and make less lief. frequent recuing scandals.

Amendment No. 4 asks for the staxation of school lands used for grazing and agricultural purposes with ne school buildings on them. It passed the Senate 24 to 0 and passed the House 100 to 5. It seeks to subject school lands owned by counties to local taxation and thus tain terms. nemove an unfair burden from tax payers in numerous counties where such lands are located. In many instances vast bodies of school lands are owned by counties and are being held for speculative purposes. There is no reason why a county should not pay taxes on such property than would any corporation or individual. To grant them immunity is unfair to private inoividual who not only is required to bear his share of the tax burden but that of the alien county as well, which expects to profit by reason of the local tax payers' enrerprise.

These four amendments passe the Senate and House almost ananimously. There were 29 Camendments offered in the House and 22 offered in the Senate, some being dupifcates, but only four passed, which shows that the Legis lators were exceeding careful and that the amendments are of some Inerit and should be endorsed by the voters at the polls Tuesday

TAX SLACKERS.

Those who evade or attemt to evade payment of taxes don't cheat the government, every citizen being a part of the government, but are stealing from all who pay their so much revenue and those who fail to pay their share are only increasing the tax burdens of beter citizens.

It is estimated by the treasury department at Washington that one of every twenty-two citizens' is a tax dedger. This means that millions are shirking some portion of their duties as citizens, although all enjoy their full share of the benefits of citizenship.

There might be less tax evasion if more people looked upon pay ment of taxes as a civic duty rath er than as a ponalty of citizenship Probably most tax dodgers believe that, they are withholding from extravagant governments and gouging politicians rather than heaping new burdens on fellow citizens.

When citizens withhold taxes from the government they not only rob it of the amount of the tax but increase government expenditure. by necessitating employment of delinquent tax collectors. The services of thousands of collectors and investigators could be dispensed with if every citizen paid his taxes voluntarily when they became due

ACCIDENTS INCREASE.

The Department of Commerce announces that during the four weeks ending October 9, 1926, automobile accidents were responsible for 656 deaths in seventy-eigh large cities in the United States The majority of these deaths were the results of accidents which occurred within the corporate limits of the cities, although some accidents occurred outside the city limits. The big prize in the election from the national party standpoint—control of the Seventieth Congress was claimed by both sides, with many Democratic managers confident that they had better than fighting chance to control at least the Senate and with the Republicans apparently equally as confident that any threat of such a result had been removed.
